

Crizlin Julian, PT, DPT

Physical Therapist

Hometown: Laguna Hills, CA

Bachelor's Degree: University of California, Irvine - B.S. in Public Health Sciences

Graduate Degree: Touro University Nevada - Doctorate in Physical Therapy

I am an Orange County native who developed an interest in physical therapy after sustaining an ACL and meniscus injury while playing soccer for Laguna Hills High School. I continued to pursue a career in healthcare while at University of California, Irvine, earning my B.S. in Public Health Sciences. During my undergraduate studies, I became a member of Pi Beta Phi Fraternity for Women, and served on the Executive Board as the Vice President of Philanthropy. My interests have led me to a career in which I can blend my love for exercise and passion for helping others. I have treated patients of all ages with orthopedic, neurological, and even vestibular impairments. What drives me is helping patients get back to doing the things that are meaningful to them and bring them joy.

In my spare time, I continue to maintain an active lifestyle, playing soccer for a recreational all-female adult league, participating in 2 different co-ed kickball leagues, and taking part in a bowling league. I also love going to the gym and taking my 2 dogs on walks around the neighborhood with my husband. My other hobbies include reading fantasy novels, finding new restaurants for foodie adventures, competing in trivia night events, and traveling internationally.